

THE CHESAPEAKE AND POTOMAC TELEPHONE COMPANIES

Gentlemen:

We have received a request for residence telephone service from one of your employees whose name and address appear on page two.

We do not have sufficient facilities to meet the requirements of all customers. As a result a number of people must wait their turn until facilities can be installed or become available through disconnections by other users.

We cannot, of course, furnish the telephone service requested ahead of others who may be waiting, unless it qualifies for preferential treatment under the order of preference which has been established.

This order of preference has been discussed with your employee who feels that residence telephone service should be provided to insure the uninterrupted operation of your business, since it is necessary that calls be received after normal working hours to perform regular business duties.

We shall be glad to consider this application for preferential treatment, however we shall need information answering each of the questions on pages 2 and 3 of this folder. Your co-operation in providing complete information will be appreciated. The facts presented should be certified by an officer of your organization.

If this folder is not returned, we shall assume that the facts in this case do not justify preferential treatment. In case you have any questions concerning this matter, please do not hesitate to call the Business Office.

We appreciate your co-operation in assisting us to carry out fairly and impartially the allocation of available telephone facilities.

service is desired

1. Nature of your business and activities which it performs within the categories mentioned on page 4.

1. Governmental.....

(a) Official Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard and Veterans Administration.

2. Position of applicant and description of specific duties which he performs; including regularly assigned out-of-hours responsibilities; and whether or not applicant is required to leave word where he can be reached when away from home.

Accounting Clerk.....

Responsible for processing various phases of accounting work in the Fiscal Division and in addition formulate plans and advise employees of new procedure to improve rapid audit work. Responsible for handling of personnel documents and effecting payments to employees, issuing necessary instruction relative to payments, etc.

3. Reasons why residence telephone service for the above employee is essential for the proper discharge of his duties in your organization. (Nature of essential calls to and from employee's residence and what immediate action must be taken by employee in connection with such calls.)

.....Applicant is custodian of safes located in office which necessitates telephone service in the event the safes are to be opened after hours or in the event they are left opened at the close of business. If either of the above should occur, the responsible employee would have to come to the office during other than office hours.....In the event the employee is absent and any question should arise concerning the work it is advisable that facilities be available to contact said employee for clarification and assistance in expediting the work and permitting dead lines to be met.

4. What means of communicating with the applicant have been used previously? Why cannot telegraph or messenger service be used?

.....Applicant has recently been assigned additional responsibilities, not previously assumed, which makes it necessary, at times, to communicate with the individual when away from the office.

.....Telegraph and Messenger service can not be used due to the security aspect of the work being performed except for the purpose of furnishing notification of a meeting place and in this connection telegraph or messenger service would not be rapid enough to obtain satisfaction.

5. What effect would an extended delay in providing the residence service requested have on the activities of your business?

.....If any situation should arise with respect to the need for an immediate payment making it necessary to contact the employee who may be away from the office after hours, or other type of absence, it would create an administrative hardship to meet the dead line on the assignment if no means of prompt and efficient communication were available to the employee.
